Introducing

F. D. HALL & SON LIMITED

Building Contractor and Specialist Joinery Manufacturer

We would like to introduce our company F D Hall & Son Ltd. We were founded 60 years ago at Upton Cross in Cornwall. The business is still family owned and run, employing 35 people at our factory site which is the base for our Building Contracting operation as well as our bespoke joinery production. We aim to be around for another 60 years at least.

We can tackle work virtually anywhere within Devon & Cornwall where we are particularly competitive having very low overheads compared with many other companies. We can handle Building Contracts of up to £500K in value, and will work with most forms of Building Contract.

Our Joinery manufacturing service has the expertise to advise on and develop cost effective solutions for all types of joinery, standard or purpose made, for all applications. We will tackle almost anything and have handled some very challenging and difficult assignments over the years.

Our main aim over the years has been to deliver the very highest quality products and services with a no nonsense approach. This has resulted in a business that turns over about £2.5M per year. Our skilled employees are mostly long serving staff, many of whom served apprenticeships here in our own workshops.

We regularly manufacture joinery for both contemporary new buildings or period and Listed Buildings including architecturally designed doors and windows; conservatories; roof lights and lanterns. Staircases are a particular specialism and projects have included traditional cut strings, laminated/curved strings, spiral staircases, glass balustrade and much more. We also have the ability to match or reproduce intricate moulded skirting, architrave and dado rails etc, for Listed Buildings and Conservation Work.

At this time of limited work due to the current economic crisis we are working very hard to keep our workforce together, so as not to lose skills for the future. To that extent we will consider most projects of a construction, refurbishment, repair or maintenance nature. No job will be passed over if we can price it for you. We will be very competitive.

If we can provide you with any further information, including sets of accounts and customer testimonials we would be only too happy to do so.
